OUR UNDERGRADUATE BUSINESS DEGREE IS DESIGNED TO GIVE YOU AN UNPARALLELED CAREER ADVANTAGE IN TODAY'S GLOBAL ECONOMY.

Illinois Tech's Stuart School of Business is the business school of choice for those who expect more than just a typical degree in business administration. It's a new type of business education for those who want to be leaders in the next economy—and in a world where technology is the foundation of innovation. This degree translates into a real career advantage, preparing you with the skills needed to make a meaningful impact on an organization's success.

WHAT MAKES THE UNDERGRADUATE BUSINESS PROGRAM AT STUART DISTINCTIVE?

- We emphasize analytics and quantitative methodologies, hands-on learning, and real-world problem solving.
- You'll learn emerging technologies—and how to use them to your advantage.
- Our students are entrepreneurial by nature and have countless opportunities to explore their own business ideas through coursework, competitions, and student organizations.
- You can customize your business degree with a specialization in one of Illinois Tech's scientific, professional, and technical disciplines. For example, you may want to pursue a business degree with a focus on computer science or engineering.

YOUR CAREER PREPARATION BEGINS HERE.

Stuart students have exclusive access to a dedicated Career Management Center (CMC) that will help you prepare for your successful career. The CMC hosts weekly onsite information sessions with top companies, along with a variety of workshops, résumé reviews, mock interviews, and networking events. Stuart graduates have gone on to work for companies including Calamos Investments, PricewaterhouseCoopers, JPMorgan Chase, OfficeMax, and more, with job titles including business intelligence analyst, marketing consultant, account executive, and trading analyst, to name a few.

WORK EXPERIENCE.

B.S. + MASTER'S = DOUBLE YOUR ADVANTAGE

Illinois Tech's special degree programs allow you to earn both your undergraduate and graduate degrees in only five years—a significant savings of time and money.

Combine the quantitative, analytic, economic, and managerial skills from your bachelor's degree with in-depth knowledge in areas including public administration, marketing analytics, and finance. In fact, Stuart's graduate finance program is ranked among the top 10 in the U.S. Earn your graduate degree now and start your career a step above the competition.

OUR BUSINESS FACULTY SPEAK THE LANGUAGE OF ENGINEERS, SCIENTISTS, MATHEMATICIANS, AND OTHER TECHNOLOGICALLY FOCUSED PROFESSIONALS.

Stuart School of Business faculty are experts in more than just business. That's because they also bring to the classroom advanced degrees and work experience in such fields as:

- Accounting

WE ARE LOCATED IN ONE OF THE WORLD'S GREAT CITIES— AND BUSINESS CENTERS.

Chicago is internationally renowned as a “place to do business”—and Stuart students get the chance to interact with some of the best executive, managerial, and entrepreneurial talent in the world.

It's also a city that offers unparalleled opportunities and experiences. After all, it's also known as The Windy City, Second City, The City That Works, and The City of Big Shoulders. The city where White Sox are always in fashion, Blackhawks take to the ice, and the Fire light up the field. And, since it is home to the Cubs, Bulls, and Bears, we also like to call Chicago “The City That Roars.”
